WAYS TO REINVIGORATE YOUR SCHOOL WALLS!

Promote your school's values and ethos

Wall art and graphics are a great way to highlight the values of your school and reinforce key messages. They're also ideal for helping to inspire and educate staff, students and visitors.

Inspire and Educate

Transform empty walls and dull corridors with famous quotes, stats and murals which can not only educate students but inspire them too. You can use motivational messages from important historical figures for example or use well-known sayings focusing on key values such as respect and attitude.

Make departments stand out

Visuals and decals are fantastic for highlighting key departments and subject areas - they can also be used as timely reminders and learner prompts - for instance a period table on the science block wall or commonly used phrases in the language department.

Highlight awards and achievements

Graphics can also be used to promote and highlight the achievements of pupils and staff. Seeing their efforts recognised can be really motivating for students and teachers and it also lets people know about the brilliant work that's taking place at your school.
